Texas Blast Cuts Supply Of Rubber

CHICAGO, April 17.—(INS)—An official of a leading tire manufacturing company estimated in Chicago today that destruction of the Monsanto Chemical Company's huge Texas City plant has wiped out one fourth of the synthetic rubber supply for passenger automobiles.
George Broughton, executive of the B. F. Goodrich Company, said: "Destruction of the Monsanto plant at Texas City cuts off one fourth of the nation's supply of styrene. That, no doubt, will cut deeply into the production of synthetic rubber for tires." Broughton added that a sharp increase in the importation of crude rubber would be "the only lifesaver for the passenger car tire manufacturer."

H. Sides of Winston-Salem.
At an earlier session Rev. Mr.
Carpenter was elected president of the Southern Synod for the coming year, succeeding Rev. Mr. Lovens.
Rev. John C. Peeler of Burlington was named vice-president; Rev. W.
C. Lyerly of Newton, secretary; Rev. Milton Whittaker of Salisbury, treasurer, and Dr. Donald C. Dearborn of Salisbury, lay member of the synodical council. The newly elected president automatically becomes a member of the board.

New Members Elected to the board of trustees of well were: Mrs. R. A. Patterson of Rockwell; John T. Pepperman of Kannapolis; James A. Shuford of Lincolnton, and J. Yorke Peeler of Lenoir. Rev. Mr. Peeler, the vice-president, was also named trustee of Homewood, a home for the aged at Hagerstown, Md.

Miss Jessie Leonard of Lexington was chosen delegate to the National Association Children's Workers, which will meet in Des Moines, Iowa, in July. Rev. Aubrey W.
Hedrick of Mt. Pleasant presented the report of the committee on Christian education. He announced that Rev. Roy E. Leinbach of Newton, will be chairman of the Summer conference slated for Catawba College June 22 to July 5.

President Pledges Aid To Stricken Texas Seaport

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(AP)— President Truman offered the resources of all federal agencies for relief in the Texas City disaster today.
Truman, following developments from the White House, telegraphed Mayor J. C. Trahan of Texas City:
"My heart and the heart of the nation go out in deepest sympathy to the suffering people of Texas City. May God lighten the burden of sorrow which has fallen on the community with such tragic force."
"I know that the Red Cross is ministering to your stricken city, and I have instructed every government agency to co-operate in relief activity."
The army, navy and other federal agencies rushed aid to the disaster scene.
Senator O'Daniel (Democrat, Texas) introduced a resolution demanding a "full and complete investigation" of the disaster.
Representative Stephenson (Republican, Wisconsin) raised the question: "What if a similar terrible calamity struck Washington?" He proposed that federal agencies be scattered throughout the country to avoid wholesale destruction of the government in such an event.

The 18-months-old strike, which began October 1, 1945, was listed by the United States Department of Labor as the longest current labor dispute in the nation.

The end of the prolonged dispute, frequently marked by violence and bloodshed, was announced in a joint statement by the unions and the railroads. It said "details of the settlement should be completed within a few days."

The statement said the settlement was "mutually satisfactory." George P. McNear, president of the railroad, was slain from ambush March 10. His death still is being investigated. Two union pickets were shot and killed in an affray with four railroad guards at Gridley, Ill., in February, 1946. The guards were charged with manslaughter and acquitted.

A spokesman for the two executors of McNear's estate said that work probably will be resumed Monday. He said current negotiations began last April 4.
Assassination of McNear capped a long series of violent incidents along the 230-mile belt line railroad which serves as a freight bypass and crosses Illinois south of Chicago from Keokuk, Iowa, to

Chapel Hill Seeks Facts On Racial Controversy

BY LOIS CRANFORD

CHAPEL HILL, April 17.— More than 1,000 university students, faculty members, and interested townspeople jammed Memorial Hall here this afternoon to attend a "violence meeting" seeking to clarify facts related to inter-racial disturbances in Chapel Hill this week.
Three men, two of them students and the third, Rev. Charles M. Jones, pastor of the Presbyterian Church here, were called upon by the acting chairman, Winston Broadfoot of Chapel Hill, to explain their knowledge of the situation, touched off Saturday and Sunday by the arrival of a "team" from the Fellowship of Reconciliation, New York inter-racial group and the action of two Negro members of the group who refused to move to the back of a direction of the bus driver. The Negroes insisted upon their rights under the June 3, 1946 ruling of the United States Supreme Court making it illegal to segregate seating of passengers of different racial backgrounds from one point in one state to a point in another state.

Rev. Mr. Jones explained at today's meeting that the F. O. R., as the organization is generally referred to, is a national organization of Christians and has made a "thorough and exhaustive study of law as related to transportation in order that Christians and others might understand the law and practice it."

He further explained that the F. O. R. offers leaders for discussion groups in the Upper South, "and, when necessary, institutes friendly test cases in the courts."
Jones insisted that the Negro and white youths with the F. O.
R. group were "not lawless trouble makers," but were fine Christian citizens "intent on informing people on changes in the law regarding transportation." An unidentified student posed a question from the floor asking, "Does Rev. Mr. Jones think the true Christian spirit is displayed by the F. O. R. representatives who come here and insist upon sitting with white passengers on buses, when they know that such practice would only cause trouble and dissension?"

Another student, Harvey Dasiels, stated "from a constitutional aspect the rights are very clear.
But when you consider the general attitudes and practices in the South it is stupid to raise a point which can bring only friction, a crusade of going about and raising such questions, cannot be merely trying to bring about reconciliation. It has as its end the creation of dissensions not here before," he concluded. "I cannot but damn all connected with bringing a group here merely to stir up dissension."
